BIJOU THEATER

"Lovesick Izzy," as presented by Monte Carter and his dancing chicks at the Bijou theater last night, was an immediate hit and met with the approval of two packed houses. The plot is funny and Izzy gets into various and hilarious situations. He falls in love with the photo of a girl and sends his nephew to visit the girl himself, the nephew marries her but does not let his uncle know who he married. The nephew and his wife then take up their residence with Jeremiah Simpkins and his wife. Jeremiah is a henpeck and the part is cleverly enacted by Walter Spencer. Izzy comes to visit his nephew, but does not recognize Mildred, his wife, the girl of the picture. Walter Willes, Izzy's nephew, tells his wife that Izzy is a crazy man and also tells Izzy the same about his wife to protect himself. The funny situations that arise keep the audience in a continual state of laughter.

"What D'Ye Mean You Lost Your Dog" was sung by Walter Spencer and

POPULAR THEATER

That showers and threatening weather in general don't prevent the public from turning out when something good is on the calendar was proved by the numbers who gathered last evening at this comfortable little theater to see that military melodrama success in three reels, "The Battle of Bull Run."

It is a crackerjack picture—interesting from start to finish, with its great number of fighting men, divided into infantry, cavalry and artillery. Its thrilling plot, its charges and retreats, its climaxes and its stirring action.

This picture is being shown at the daily matinees, starting at 2:15, and the two evening shows, the first commencing at 7 o'clock. For today and tomorrow one can see this military drama, and then, for the balance of the week, the leading feature will be "The Crusaders," a great picture of the interesting events connected with the religious crusades of mediaeval times. In addition to these features there are shown one-reel photoplays of comedy, drama and news interest

HAWAII THEATER

As was predicted, the Hawaii theater was filled to the doors three different times last night by people of the city who wanted to see the feature film, "The Doom of the Guinnee of New York." It is truly a wonderful production, and the attendance on the first night shows that the four nights that the film is billed for exhibit will be crowded houses for the Hawaii theater.

It is a most thrilling production and holds the attention every second that the reel is being run off. There is nothing offensive in the picture and nothing that would have any influence on a weak mind. It is just a reproduction of some of the scenes that have been written about so much in the papers of the world about the great crime of New York when the gambler Herman Rosenthal was shot down in cold blood. The film must be seen to be appreciated. It will be on at the Hawaii theater for the next three nights.

MISSION HEAD SEES OLD FRIEND

Last evening at the Kakaako Mission, Superintendent Harris enjoyed the presence of his old friend, Mr. William Knott of Kaimakahi, Molokai, with whom he had been acquainted in other years in Australia. Mr. Knott, in a very entertaining way, gave a short and pointed address, drawing practical lessons from his experiences in years gone by before the mast. After the talk the meeting resolved itself into a social in the nature of a reunion during which time refreshments were served.

AD CLUB TO GIVE THANKS

The Thanksgiving luncheon of the Honolulu Ad Club tomorrow noon bids fair to be one of the record events of that live organization. A special luncheon will be served for the occasion. Mr. Frazier and Mr. Strange have arranged a musical program to start the enthusiasm early in the session, and the members all have Thanksgiving sentiments to offer. There is no programed speaker for the day, it being certain that the members will take up the time—time never lags heavily at an Ad Club session which ends promptly at 1 o'clock. Quite a number of invited guests will be present. Hilo has sent in his contribution to the Thanksgiving sentiments by mail.

Don't forget the date. Tomorrow, Wednesday, at noon, sixth floor dining room, Young hotel.
The special Thanksgiving luncheon prepared by Manager Heydenreich of the Young cafe reads as follows:
Olive Alligator Pear Cocktail
Creme of Celery Soup
Hind's Ranch Roast Island Turkey
Fresh Cranberry Sauce
Roast Potatoes Brussels Sprouts
Plum Pudding Hard Sauce
Angry Man—Madame, your little Cosmo just threw a brick through our window.
Cosmo's Ma—Would you bring me the brick? We are keeping all little reminders of his youthful pranks.—New York Globe.

URGES HONOLULU TO SEND DISPLAY TO COAST POINTS

Philippine Editor Tells of Profitable Exhibits at Seattle and San Francisco

E. J. Haberer, Philippine editor and publisher, and insular commercial agent, and a passenger on the Chiyu Maru to the Orient today, brings from the Coast a suggestion that the commercial bodies of Honolulu should establish an industrial exhibit at Seattle and elaborate that at San Francisco.

Haberer is a former resident of Seattle and has been in the Philippines for three years. He has been in the States on business for some months and is now returning. His work in the Philippines includes the editorship of the Luzon Herald, a weekly published at Manila, and the management of El Ideal, a Spanish daily.

"In Seattle, the Philippine islands are establishing a very fine exhibit under the auspices of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce in its handsome quarters in the Central building," said Haberer today. "I was instrumental in interesting the business men of Seattle in the idea and of getting the exhibit from the Philippines. It is a sort of commercial museum. James D. Lowman, president of the chamber, is much interested in the plan and will gladly help the commercial bodies of Honolulu to join in making an exhibit, which, I know, will be given plenty of space."
"Robert Dollar, chairman of the San Francisco Chamber on foreign commerce, is in charge of the exhibit being established there. The Philippines expect to derive great indirect profit from these displays, as they will advantageously advertise the islands and their many and varied products."

WEDDING BELLS

LOCKE-GRAMHAM.

Another romance, with its inception on the mainland, culminated, today, in Honolulu, when George Henry Locke, salesman for the Honolulu Gas Company, and Miss Harriet B. Gramham of Boston, Mass., were married. The ceremony was performed shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon and the couple left immediately for Haleiwa, where a short honeymoon will be spent before Mr. Locke once more takes up his business duties.

Mrs. Locke is a member of the Julia Ward Howe family and a prominent social favorite in the Bay State. Mr. Locke came to Honolulu about six months ago and is highly thought of by his social and business associates.

ates. The couple will be at home in Honolulu following the honeymoon trip.

At the conclusion of a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon U. S. Commissioner George A. Davis held an inquest into the death of a Chinese, An Lin Tsin, a Chinese, to the federal grand jury, which is to make a further investigation of the alleged conspiracy, wherein U. S. District Attorney Brackens accuses An Lin Tsin of forming a plot to railroad Wong Sau Kai to prison for having unstamped opium in his possession. The case developed more than a month ago, when Brackens, raided Wong Sau Kai's place. He suspected a frame-up against this Chinaman at that time, by other Chinese who had reason to hate him because he had informed to the police on their gambling dens.
